SCHOLARSHIP/PUBLICATIONS / WRITINGS

Books:

SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY LAW AND THE AMERICAN LABOR MARKET (NYU PRESS, 2021) [280 pgs] (reviewed by Penn State-Dickinson Professor of Law Robert E. Rains, An Attempt to Bring Modern Workplace Realities to the Social Security Disability Adjudication System, 126 DICK. L. REV. 585 (2022)). (“Through [this book], Jon C. Dubin has made a significant contribution to the field of disability law.”).

“This is an excellent, long-term overview of the social security disability programs that comes to grips with the current challenges and offers recommendations for ongoing reform. I don’t know of any project that’s assembled the history of these programs as comprehensively as Dubin has done. An excellent history by an extremely careful and well-known scholar.”

—Matthew Diller, Dean and Paul Fuller Professor of Law, Fordham Law School.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW AND PRACTICE IN A NUTSHELL (CO-AUTHORED WITH FRANK S. BLOCH, WEST ACADEMIC PUBLISHING CO., NUTSHELL SERIES) (2022) [425 pgs].

SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY LAW AND PROCEDURE IN FEDERAL COURT (CO-AUTHORED WITH CAROLYN A. KUBITSCHKE, THOMSON REUTERS CO.) (2024- 2011; fourteen annual treatise editions) [1,862 pgs] cited by the Supreme Court in Biestek v. Berryhill, 139 S.Ct. 1148, 1152 (2019); by several U.S. Courts of Appeals, see Kilpatrick v. Kijakazi, 35 F.4th 1187, 1190-92 (9th Cir. 2022); Brown v. Kijakazi, 11 F.4th 1008, 1009 (9th Cir. 2021); Goode v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec., 966 F.3d 1277, 1282 (11th Cir. 2020); Lee v. Berryhill, 721 Fed. App’x 601, 606 (9th Cir. 2017); Yates v. Colvin, 606 Fed. App’x 225, 228 (5th Cir. 2015); Copeland v. Colvin, 771 F.3d 920, 925 (5th Cir. 2014); and in 200+ U.S. District Court decisions.

“It is an excellent treatise, one that strikes just the right balance between readability and detail and between conveying information and providing useful critique. I love the Wright & Miller treatise on Federal Practice and Procedure and always think of it as setting the standard. But [Social Security Disability Law & Procedure in Federal Court] is every bit as good.”

—David Marcus, Professor of Law and Vice Dean, UCLA School of Law.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW, POLICY AND PRACTICE: CASES AND MATERIALS (CO-AUTHORED WITH FRANK S. BLOCH, WEST ACADEMIC PUB. CO.) (2016) [1,112 pgs]. [First hardcover Social Security law casebook].

"Social Security Law, Policy, and Practice, . . . provides a rich set of materials on the law and practice of social security law, especially social security disability law and practice, combined with a discussion of selected issues of social security policy. The book makes complex material clear and accessible and the chapters on social security practice and administrative advocacy are particularly timely and useful. Students and new lawyers will get a thorough exposure not only to the theoretical, policy, and doctrinal underpinnings of the law but also on how advocacy can translate these principles into action. Well done!"

—Robert Dinerstein, Professor of Law, American University, Washington College of Law.

SUPPLEMENT TO SOCIAL SECURITY LAW, POLICY AND PRACTICE: CASES AND MATERIALS (CO-AUTHORED WITH FRANK S. BLOCH, WEST ACADEMIC PUBLISHING CO.) (2024-2017; 8 separate editions) [87 pgs].

TEACHER'S MANUAL TO SOCIAL SECURITY LAW, POLICY AND PRACTICE: CASES AND MATERIALS (CO-AUTHORED WITH FRANK S. BLOCH) (WEST ACADEMIC PUB. CO.) (2016) (Updated Edition 2023) [148 pgs].

CLINICAL EDUCATION FOR THIS MILLENNIUM: THE THIRD WAVE (AYUMI MICHE KODAMA & ERI OSAKA TRANS. (in Japanese) 2005) (co-authored with Margaret M. Barry & Peter A. Joy)) [204 pgs].

AWARDS / SPECIAL RECOGNITION

- The National Equal Justice Library selected the article, Torquemada Meets Kafka: The Misapplication of the Issue Exhaustion Doctrine to Inquisitorial Administrative Proceedings, 97 COLUM. L. REV. 1289 (1997) (lead article) for the second biennial Edgar and Jean Cahn Award as one of three outstanding articles about equal justice for lower income persons published during the entire 20th century. The U.S. Supreme Court twice cited the article, followed its reasoning and adopted the article's doctrinal label, "issue exhaustion," in the text of Sims v. Apfel, 530 U.S. 103, 111-12 (2000). The U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Seventh and Eighth Circuits cited and followed the article's reasoning a year earlier in Johnson v. Apfel, 189 F.3d 561, 562-64 (7th Cir. 1999) (Posner, C.J.) (reversing 6 earlier decisions based on the article's position and inviting en banc review); and Harwood v. Apfel, 186 F.3d 1039, 1042-43 (8th Cir. 1999), which created the conflict with other circuits, justifying certiorari.
 - One of only fourteen Rutgers University Faculty in the University's history and third from the law faculty ever to be awarded the designation of Board of Governors Distinguished Service Professor.
 - A committee of 50 law professors and practitioners selected the article, From Junkyards To Gentrification: Explicating a Right to Protective Zoning in Low-Income Communities of Color, 77 MINN. L. REV. 739 (1993) (lead article) for inclusion in an anthology issue of Clark-Boardman's LAND USE AND ENVIRONMENT LAW REVIEW, as one of the 5 "best" land use articles of the year. Reprinted at 25 LAND USE & ENVIRONMENT L. REV. 89 (1994).
 - Recipient of the 2003 Haywood Burns/Shanara Gilbert Award from the Northeast People of Color Legal Scholarship Conference for scholarship "that advances the legal, social and economic position of persons of color in this society."
 - Elected into the National Academy of Social Insurance in 2016, comprised of the nation's top scholars and "leading experts in social insurance." "Academy membership recognizes those who have made distinguished and continuing achievements in the field" and is "one of the highest honors that can be accorded a social insurance professional."
 - Awarded the 2014 Clinical Legal Education Association's national award for advancing the cause of clinical faculty and clinical legal education.
 - Awarded the 2014 National Organization of Social Security Claimant Representatives' Eileen P. Sweeney Award for advancing the quality and availability of advocacy for disability claimants and improving the adjudicatory process.
 - Awarded the 2010 Oliver Randolph Award for Civil Rights Advocacy on behalf of African Americans by the Garden State Bar Association (NJ's African American Bar Ass'n).
 - Accepted the 2010 Rutgers University-Newark's Community Engagement Award on behalf of the Law School's Clinical Program as Director (based on the program's work and accomplishments).
 - Awarded the 2007 Stanley Van Ness Leadership Award for Career Contributions to Public Interest Law by New Jersey Appleseed/New Jersey Public Interest Law Center.
 - Awarded the St. Mary's 1993 Distinguished Faculty Award for Excellence in Teaching (requiring student evaluations in top quartile of faculty and other indicia of teaching innovation/excellence).

SELECT SIGNIFICANT LAW SCHOOL/CLINICAL LITIGATION

I. U.S. Supreme Court

- Sims v. Apfel, 530 U.S. 103 (2000) (Co-counsel, principal author of Petitioner’s Brief, and principal strategist of the Petitioner’s position in the U.S. Supreme Court in successful challenge to application of the newly labelled “issue exhaustion” doctrine applied to the SSA Appeals Council stage, to preclude access to justice in federal court and meaningful court review of SSA administrative decisions).
- Carr v. Saul, 141 S. Ct. 1352 (2021) (Counsel of record and principal author of Amici Curiae brief on behalf of 56 Law Professors from 40 Law Schools (including Yale, Harvard, Stanford, Columbia, N.Y.U., U.C. Berkeley and Duke), in case successfully arguing for extension of Sims v. Apfel to reject issue exhaustion doctrine as applied to structural constitutional issues in SSA ALJ hearing proceedings).

II. New Jersey Supreme Court

- Sussex Commons Assocs., LLC v. Rutgers Env. Law Clinic, 46 A.3d 537 (N.J. 2012) (successful challenge to application of N.J. Open Public Records Act and common law access right to public law school clinical program’s case files and faculty and student notes; co-counsel with several Rutgers clinics as Amici and coordinated national Amici and Rutgers positions from trial court (2006)-NJ Supreme Court (2012)).

III. U.S. Court of Appeals

- Nazario v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec., 794 Fed. Appx. 204 (3d Cir. 2019) (first full reversal and immediate award of social security disability benefits by the Third Circuit in 11 years; clinic was sole counsel).
- Sykes v. Apfel, 228 F.3d 259 (3d Cir. 2000) (rejecting SSA’s reliance on its exertional (strength-limiting)-impairment-based, medical-vocational guidelines or “grid” framework to misapply the administrative notice doctrine and deny benefits without additional vocational evidence of performable jobs for claimants with non-exertional (i.e. mental, postural/manipulative, visual/auditory, sensory) limitations and resulting in rare “Acquiescence Ruling” (AR) and policy change for thousands of claimants in the Third Circuit region under SSA’s “Sykes” ruling-AR 01-1(3), 66 F.R. 7829 (2001); clinic was sole counsel).
- Thomas v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec., 625 F.3d 798 (3d Cir. 2010) (Co-counsel, in Child Advocacy Clinic’s (lead counsel), very first Third Circuit appeal in an SSI children’s disability case; establishing the remedial principle that court remands due to inadequately reasoned or articulated ALJ decisions, require notice and meaningful opportunity to be heard on remand and for additional record development; not simply more or better articulation and reasoning by the ALJ).
- McCauley v. Barnhart, 95 Fed. Appx. 452 (3d Cir. 2004) (clarifying requirements for evaluation of obesity and step-2 slightheadedness medical threshold and remanding SSA decision; clinic was sole counsel).
- Rodriguez v. Shalala, 35 F.3d 560 (5th Cir. 1994) (Table) (establishing standard for evaluation of the disabling side-effects of prescribed medication and remanding SSA decision; clinic was sole counsel).

IV. U.S. District Court—Class Action

- Newark Coalition for Low-Income Housing v. Newark Housing Authority & U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Devel., 89-1303 (DRD) (D.N.J. Feb. 22, 2005) (order in class action rejecting counting privatized Newark public housing units as replacement, permanent low-income public housing under consent decree requiring replacement of 2000 demolished units; ordering privatized units replaced; clinic was lead counsel in this historic 20-year class action from 2003-08 and co-counsel from 1999-03).

V. U.S. District Court—Individual Case of First Impression

- Gonzalez v. Astrue, 564 F. Supp.2d 317 (D.N.J. 2008) (first successful challenge to government’s Equal Access to Justice Act attorney fee accrual and debt offset policy applied to pro bono counsel; awarding $30,217 in fees directly to Rutgers Clinic for successful Third Circuit litigation and averting offsets under the Federal Debt Collection Act; clinic was sole counsel).

VI. Other

- Supervised law student representation in approximately 200 federal evidentiary hearings for clinic clients, often involving cross-examination of expert vocational and medical witnesses, client interviewing, counseling, testimonial preparation, direct examination, fact investigation and extensive pre-hearing briefing, and in significant federal court appellate advocacy including a dozen successful circuit appeals; recovered over $350,000 in attorney’s fees under the Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA) for the Rutgers Clinical Program through successful federal court litigation on behalf of indigent clients in clinic cases, including the largest reported EAJA fee award in an individual client’s SSDI/SSI federal court appeal in the history of the Act in Maria T.N. v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec., 2022 WL 17221409 (D.N.J. 2022) (awarding $48,680 to the Rutgers Clinical Program).
