JLSA STATEMENT ON STANDING IN SOLIDARITY WITH THE BLACK COMMUNITY

The Rutgers Camden Jewish Law Student Association (JLSA) honors the legacies of George Floyd, Ahmaud Arbery, Breonna Taylor and so many more.

Never Again. This is a phrase that has been used countless times in reference to the Holocaust. We have vowed to never again allow genocide to devastate any ethnic, national, racial, or religious group. Now we, as members of the Jewish community, cannot sit quietly by as people are killed for the color of their skin. After all, as history has taught us, silence and complicity results in the death of millions. Today and every day, we must speak out in support of the Black and African American community in this country.

JLSA recognizes the unique role that the Jewish community has in condemning the institutionalized racism in this country. We recognize that in order to truthfully say the words never again, we must do our part to remind our community that these words do not apply only to Jews. We pledge to take on these necessary conversations with our families and friends and to take concrete action toward justice and equality in this country. We pledge to serve as supporters and allies of the Black community. We pledge to listen to and amplify the powerful testimonies of our Black and African American brothers and sisters.

JLSA encourages everyone to educate themselves on the issues facing the Black community, hold the loss of life in higher regard than the loss of property and support the Black community by donating to the organizations listed below. In solidarity, we say Never Again and Black Lives Matter.

"I don't speak because I have the power to speak; I speak because I don't have the power to remain silent" – Rabbi A. Y. Kook
