

The Executive Board of the Veteran's Law Society at Rutgers – Camden stands in solidarity alongside the Black Law Students Association and the Black community against the institutionalized racial violence that has been ongoing for far too long. We find it imperative to do more than idly sit by while the Black community is and has been fatally targeted by racial discrimination running rampant in an institution built against them. With this statement, we call on all Veteran's Law Society members, the Rutgers Law community and beyond to be active voices against racial injustices and to ignite the rebuilding of a system that better serves us all. The Veteran's Law Society is a student organization founded on the mission to empower and support all members of our community, specifically those with worldviews and experiences other than our own. Justice, freedom and equality are the core values rooted in our nation that Veterans have proudly and honorably defended. Let us not lose sight of them when it matters most. Black lives matter.
